Dear Jeff:

As you know my wife, Margaret and I spent a few days on the reservation in July conducting research for a doctoral dissertation on the Mohican Sermons of Jonathan Edwards. We want to express our sincere gratitude to everyone who so graciously assisted us: Larry Madden; Heather Bruegl and Yvette Malone of the Arvid E. Miller Museum & Library tirelessly answered questions and helped us source important documents. Special thanks to you, Jeff, for taking the time to tour us around the reservation so we could visit important sites. My heart was warmed to hear that the youth are interested in the tribal history and that there is an effort to learn the language. Allow me to close with this exhortation: Young people, never forget your heritage; embrace the present, and be the future of the Mohican people.

Onewe,
Roy M. Paul

Council visits for Papscaanee Island pipeline issue

Vice President Matthew J. Putnam and Councilman Craig Kroening Jr. viewed the site where the dancer murals will be used on the overpass to the Albany International Airport

By Bonney Hartley
Vice President Matthew J. Putnam and Councilman Craig Kroening Jr. visited Mohican homelands recently for involvement in historic preservation issues.

New York historic preservation office. Thanks to the work of our consulting archaeologists at Morton Archaeological, we had the expertise to identify and assess the range of artifacts and better understand the significance. The artifacts were respectfully bundled with medicine and returned to an area on the site where they had originally come from.

The primary purpose of the visit was to participate in the ongoing consultation for the National Grid Pipeline E37 project that would impact sensitive Papscaanee Island in the Hudson River near Albany, New York. Their involvement at the meeting along with the Tribe's consulting archaeologist and engineer was an important demonstration of the significance of Papscaanee Island and its place in safeguarding Mohican cultural heritage. As a result of the on-site meeting, the developers have been directed by the Army Corps of Engineers to further examine any other alternatives that would avoid impact to this important, National Register-nominated site. I will continue to provide updates as the consultation continues.

In addition, the Council representatives viewed the location of a mural of Native dancers that will be on a high-visibility new overpass to the Albany International Airport. The dancer mural is one aspect of a federal consultation project that our Tribe's historic preservation office has been involved in for several years as mitigation for the project's impact to an archaeological site. The bridge and overpass are currently under construction, and Council members were able to walk the site with the project engineer and view the mural location in advance of the installation later this year. It was, as always, a busy trip in the homelands. The on-site visits went a long way to providing leadership for several cultural heritage issues—particularly the current threat to Papscaanee Island.

They gave a history of how victims are enticed away to be used to make money. The people that are taken away, never get to see their family again. Those taken may be listed as "missing" but are still alive. Although women and children are mostly enticed, and taken away, men are also victims. Those taken are threatened, beaten, and kept away from the public until they are ready to start working. They may want to leave but threats against family members are made and they stay, to keep their family safe. Those who do try to escape may be killed. It was stated that criminals target vulnerable people on social media sites. Parents at this session were warned to always be aware of, and to watch the social media that your children and teens may be participating in.

Talk to your children about social media and human trafficking. Several persons in the audience had questions and seemed very interested in the topic. Game Warden/Officer Beau Miller even mentioned a trip he took up north and how he learned of so many Native American women that were missing.

After the meal and presentation, there were two (2) games for families to be involved in. The first game was called the Majik Carpet Ride. A team of family members had to stand on each corner of a blanket. They had to flip the blanket over to the other side without stepping off the blanket. If their shoe touched the blacktop at any time, they were disqualified. 1st place went to Diondre Shawano and family. 2nd place went to LeAnthony Pecore family. The second family game was the Balloon Toss. Four team members, with two each holding a bath towel had to toss a balloon back and forth without breaking the balloon. Teams were provided a practice round before starting. 1st place went to the Brandon Merckes family and 2nd place went to Kemawin Dess and family.

There were four (4) large door prizes given out at this event; a shade shelter, with a foldable table, lawn chairs and a small cooler went to Martha Goldsberry. A basket with kitchen items; towels, small rugs, pots n pans, a baker set, hot mitten; went to Mike Pennass. Kids fishing poles, a tackle box, kids lawn chairs, a cooler went to Dominek Gourrean. The bean bag chair, candy, a small area shag rug, a tablet, went to Olivia Malone. We also had ten (10) $10.00 gift cards that were won by various community members.

Thank you to everyone from the community and all the departments for another successful event.

Korea in Ma?eekunneewa? keek Korea in Mahican Territory

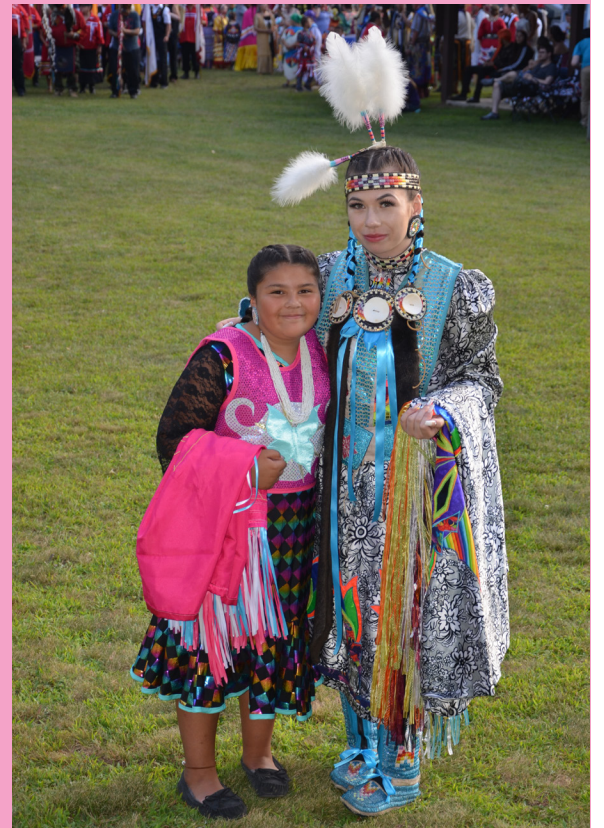

By visiting reporter Ms. Victoria Cartier
As in past years the Cultural exchange between the traveling Korean cultural troupe and the Stockbridge-Munsee band of Mohicans went off like clockwork. Staying at and headquartered out of the Mohican Family Center, kept Mr. Joe Miller and his able staff on their toes from sleeping arrangements to daily meals the MFC was a beehive of activities. From old to young the Korean delegation brought good manners, good food and smiling faces. Young people from around the country trained in some cases up to three months for their show of talent presented at the MFC. Even after a week or better on the road they were all gung- ho to present the Mohican community with a first rate show. They debuted K-POP, a korean style of hip-hop. Theatrical skit involving a forward display of lyrics and lines on a screen, then turned around and reacted the same skit to the same lyrics going backward, skillful and tastefully done. Coordinated dance and drum groups wound amongst each other with precision and grace. Leading up their thunderous big drum routine which had the MFC gym reverberating with rhythm. The Mohican community responded in kind filling the gym with enthusiastic viewers and patrons. Arriving during the Mohican Nation Stockbridge-Munsee Community Language and Culture Camp the delegation was able to come the the Many Trails Park and enjoy some Idigeouns Games instruction with Mr. Paul Ninham and Mr. Warren Mihtukwsun. Speaking to three young ladies from Maryland, Michigan and Wisconsin they all enjoyed and appreciated the hospitality from tribal members they encountered. If you missed the show this year they all pledged to return and share culture and friendship.....

New Museum Exhibit

By McKayla Putnam and Nathan Webster, Summer Youth

The Arvid E. Miller Memorial Library and Museum has a new exhibit. The exhibit's name is "Toys Through Time". It was created by their 2019 Summer Youth workers, McKayla Putnam (16), daughter of Matthew and Marie Putnam and Nathan Webster Jr. (14), son of Nathan and Nikole Webster.

McKayla is going to be a junior at Bowler High School, and Nathan is going to be a freshman at Gresham High School.

This exhibit portrays children toys throughout history, mostly throughout the 1900's. It shows how interests and manufacturing has changed through time by looking back on what we had then. It captures the sense of the past and present and everything in between. They chose to display dolls and wooden toys because they were interested in what children used to play with and how toys changed versus what are played with today.

You can come down and visit the new museum display and see just how far back these toys went in out history.
