Stockbridge-Munsee Education Status

On October 1, 1980, the Stockbridge-Munsee Community contracted with the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) to administer its own higher educational aids funds to enrolled members of the Tribe. The primary purpose of this action was to have local control of the BIA Higher Education funds. At this time the student grant amount was based on the BIA calculated school year amount for eligible tribal members who showed a financial need.

In 1998 Tribal Council increased funding regardless of financial need as a result of our gaming revenues that would provide up to $3,000/year towards undergraduate and $6,000/year towards graduate education. Across the years, the grant funding grew exponentially to now provide up to $17,400/year towards undergraduate and $24,840/year towards graduate education.

This includes $342,730 in Tribal Contribution plus $120,000 in BIA Funding for a total of nearly a half a million at $462,730 budgeted for grant payments this fiscal year. Below is the percentage result of the Tribal Student Grant.

1. 21.23% have some College training.
2. 4.1% hold a Certificate.
3. 7.26% hold an Associate Degree.
4. 10.28% hold a Bachelor's Degree.
5. 3.75% hold a Graduate/ Advance Degree.

According to the US Census Bureau 2015-2019 survey estimates, our local education numbers puts us near to that of the City of Shawano under the two categories compared in the survey for 25+ years old in regard to education.

1. 85.50% of those living on the Stockbridge-Munsee Reservation are a High School graduate or higher compared to those living in the city of Shawano at 91.90%.

2. 11.00% of those living on the Stockbridge-Munsee Reservation hold a Bachelor's degree or higher compared to those living in the city of Shawano at 16.50%.

Director of Education and Career Services, Dr. Jolene Bowman said, "These numbers indicate that Stockbridge-Munsee values and supports higher education."

"How to be a Good-Minded Person"

(Editor's Note: With Sachem Day right around the corner (February 21) Cultural Affairs at the Library/Museum provided the Mohican News with the following writings of Aupaumut. We provide it to you verbatim):

As told by Captain Hendrick Aupaumut (Mahican Sachem, 1757-1830)

If you want good days and nights you must love mankind.

If somebody needs help, you should help them. Remember, someday you might need help.

If somebody is hungry, you should feed them. If somebody needs clothes, you should provide them with clothes. Remember, someday you might need food or clothes.

But if you don't, you will be called UH WU THEET, or Hard Hearted. Nobody will be nice to you. Instead, you will be made fun of.

You will make the good spirit disappointed in you.

If you see older people, you must help them instantly. They will be happy and speak well of you.

If you see people fighting, help them settle their fight.

However, as of Dec. 1, 2021 Terrance "Moonie" Miller was re-appointed to the role of Interim General Manager at the North Star Mohican Casino Resort. As the interim general manager his additional duties include advising, planning, managing and allocating resources (leading) to help team members exceed the expectations of the employer (Tribe). Dose of Reality: Get the Facts on Opioids Wisconsin's opioid epidemic began more than 20 years ago. It started with the overprescribing of prescription pain relievers. When these drugs became harder to get by those who craved them for nonmedical use, heroin use increased. Heroin was more available and cheaper. Today, opioids illegally manufactured and mixed with other drugs are causing the most damage to our families and communities. Help the people in your life understand the dangers of opioid use by getting the facts for yourself. What are opioids?

Opioids are a class of legal and illegal drugs that produce a pleasurable effect on the brain and body, although the effect is different for each person who uses opioids. Opioids are used in many ways. A health care professional may prescribe them as part of a treatment plan following an injury or surgery. Opioids also may be used in nonmedical ways. Some people may use opioids to cope with painful emotions, trauma, or other life experiences.

• Prescription pain relievers: Prescription opioids include oxycodone, hydrocodone, morphine, and methadone that relieve pain by changing the way the brain and body feel pain. They don't cure the pain, but they help a person manage it.

- Fentanyl: There are two types of fentanyl: pharmaceutical fentanyl and illegally manufactured fentanyl. Pharmaceutical fentanyl is prescribed by doctors to treat severe pain. Illegally manufactured fentanyl is sold for its heroin-like effect.
- Heroin: Heroin is an illegal opioid. There are no medical uses for heroin. Heroin can be found in both pure form and laced with other drugs.

Why are opioids dangerous?

All types of opioids are addictive. The brain and body develop a tolerance to opioids very quickly, meaning more amounts are needed to feel the same effect. This may rapidly become dependence, meaning that not taking opioids may cause discomfort because opioids are no longer in the brain and body. This leads some people to crave opioids more and more, a cycle that can lead to an opioid use disorder. An opioid use disorder occurs when opioid use interferes with daily life. This may include challenges at home, at work, at school, or in relationships. Anyone who uses opioids can develop an opioid use disorder. It is a chronic disease that can be managed. Taking too many opioids at one time can cause a person to stop breathing and die.

What are the common signs of an opioid use disorder?

- Unexplained changes in behavior, such as attitude, appetite, mood swings, sleep patterns, and irritability.
- Sudden changes in activities, such as friends or social activities or sudden shifts in jobs or hobbies.
- Engaging in secretive behaviors, such as hiding whereabouts or new friends.

Laced with Fentanyl and Lethal People all over Wisconsin are unknowingly taking drugs laced with Fentanyl and overdosing because the drugs look identical to what they are used to seeing. The difference they can't see, smell or taste is illegally manufactured Fentanyl. A dose of Fentanyl is up to 50 times stronger than heroin and up to 100 times stronger than morphine. Every person is different, but two salt-sized grains of fentanyl can be enough to cause an adult overdose. Fentanyl doses are often fatal. Illegally manufactured Fentanyl is distributed in many forms including powder and liquid.

- Illegally manufactured powdered fentanyl looks like many other drugs. It is commonly mixed with cannabis, cocaine, heroin, and methamphetamine and made into pills that are made to resemble prescription drugs. The blending of fentanyl is inconsistent and completely random, making all drugs purchased from illegal sellers a risk. One dose may not contain fentanyl, while another dose may contain it—even though both come from the same supplier.
- Illegally manufactured liquid fentanyl can be found in counterfeit nasal sprays, counterfeit eye drops, and dropped onto paper or small candies.

What can I do to help?

- Get rid of unused medications. Safe medication disposal is available at the Stockbridge Munsee Health and Wellness Center.
- Learn to respond to an overdose. Take the online training and have Narcan (Naloxone) available in case of emergency.
- Recovery is possible. Assist individuals in arranging treatment.

VOTE "YES" TO GET MONEY OUT OF POLITICS

Residents of the Town of Red Springs have an opportunity to voice their opposition to the huge amounts of money that are in our politics. In the April 5th election, a YES vote on the ballot referendum would help to change that.

American citizens do not have a "government by the people and for the people." American citizens now have "government by corporations for corporations." The reason is the Supreme Court and Citizens United. The 2010 Supreme Court, in the case of Citizens United, the court ruled that money equaled free speech. This idea has been broadened to allow corporations to give unlimited campaign contributions in amounts vastly superior to what individual citizens can afford to give.

The Wisconsin United to Amend group has been working for a U.S. Constitutional amendment stating that corporations are not people, do not have the inalienable rights of human beings, and money is not speech and therefore can be regulated in political campaigns.

Gathering dust in the Wisconsin Legislature are 166 resolutions and referenda that have already been passed in jurisdictions around the state. Over 57% of Wisconsinites have passed this resolution. Some of the area towns that have passed this resolution are: City of Shawano, Town of Wescott, Village of Wittenberg, Green Bay, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Merrill, Wausau, and New London. Wisconsin should join the other 21 state legislatures which have voted to say "Money does not equal speech" and "Corporations are not equal to people." The Wisconsin Legislature should listen to the citizens of Wisconsin as they express their voices so that we can make one large step forward to actual representative democracy.

It is important to support this referendum on Tuesday, April 5th. Vote YES.

We The People

Let's get CORRUPTING money out of politics!
Vote "YES" on TUESDAY, April 5th.

Support the resolution for a Constitutional amendment to establish that:

- Only Human Beings- not corporations or unions - are entitled to constitutional rights.
- MONEY is not speech.

In 2010, the infamous Supreme Court case, Citizens United v. Federal Elections Commission, overturned a century of precedence by ruling that corporate spending on elections cannot be limited under the First Amendment. This unleashed a flood of money into elections as "free speech".

There is SOMETHING WE CAN DO!!! We can vote to amend the Constitution to make clear that:

- The rights protected in the Constitution are those of individual human beings only.
- The spending of money is not speech, and political spending can be limited to allow all Americans to participate in the democratic process.

Over 166 municipalities or 57% of Wisconsin residents have passed this resolution. 21 states have approved it. The goal is to get 35 states to pass this resolution. Some of the area towns that have passed this resolution are: City of Shawano, Town of Wescott, Village of Wittenberg, Green Bay, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Merrill, Wausau, and New London. Wisconsin United to Amend is a grassroots, non-partisan, people powered group who is working for a Constitutional amendment to reverse the 2010 Supreme Court's Citizens United decision. April 5th Referendum Question - Red Springs (Actual Wording)

Shall the Red Springs Town Board adopt the following Resolution? _____ Yes
_____ No

Resolved, that "We the People" of the Town of Red Springs seek to reclaim democracy from the expansion of corporate person rights and the corrupting influence of unlimited political contributions and spending.

We stand with communities across the country to support passage of an amendment to the United States Constitution stating:

1. Only human beings are endowed with constitutional rights — not corporations, unions, non-profits or other artificial entities, and
2. Money is not speech, and therefore limiting political contributions and spending is not equivalent to limited speech.

EXPLANATION:

A "YES" vote

- supports amending the United States Constitution to make clear that corporations, unions, and other big organizations do not have constitutional human rights
- supports limiting spending by corporations, unions, and other big organizations related to elections.

A "NO" vote

- supports the position that corporations, unions, and other big organizations have constitutional human rights
- supports unlimited spending by corporations, unions, or other big organizations in elections.

Onion Health Research

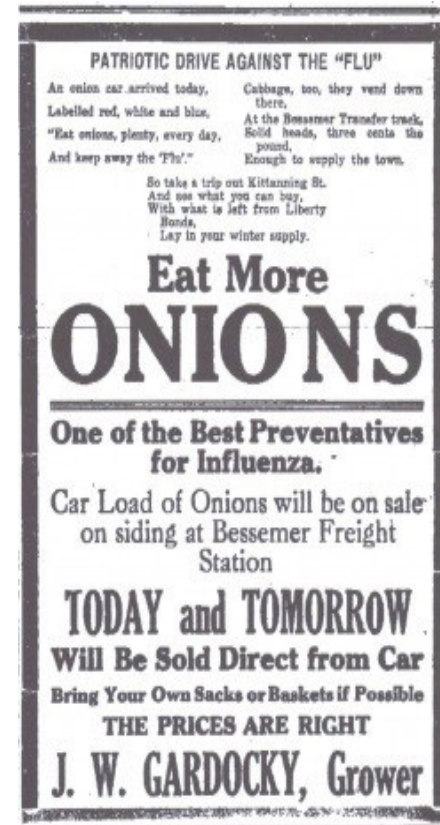

Onions not only provide flavor, they also provide important nutrients and health-promoting phytochemicals. Plenty of onion health research provides strong evidence of its nutritional value. "Onions may be among the vegetables that will be prized not only for their addition to our cuisine, but for their value-added health characteristics," said Irwin Goldman, Associate Professor of Horticulture, University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Here are some highlights:

- High in Vitamin C, onions are a good source of dietary fiber, and folic acid.
- They also contain calcium, iron, and have a high protein quality (ratio of mg amino acid/gram protein).
- Onions are low in sodium and contain no fat.
- Onions contain quercetin, a flavonoid (one category of antioxidant compounds).
- Onions contain organosulfur compounds that may offer unique health benefits.

Antioxidants are compounds that help delay or slow the oxidative damage to cells and tissue of the body. Studies have indicated that quercetin helps to eliminate free radicals in the body, to inhibit low-density lipoprotein oxidation (an important reaction in the atherosclerosis and coronary heart disease), to protect and regenerate vitamin E (a powerful antioxidant), and to inactivate the harmful effects of chelate metal ions.

N95 respirators

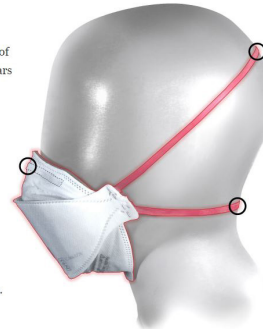

N95 respirators have long been the best disposable face coverings for protection against airborne viruses, but until recently, they were scarce.

When worn properly, N95s can filter out at least 95 percent of particles in the air, including the virus that causes covid-19. Only pricey air-purifying respirators or hazmat suits offer better protection.

Straps around the crown of the head and below the ears are crucial to ensure the respirator fits tightly.

A flexible nose clamp helps form a tight seal.

Fit is critical so that air flows through the mask and not around the edges.

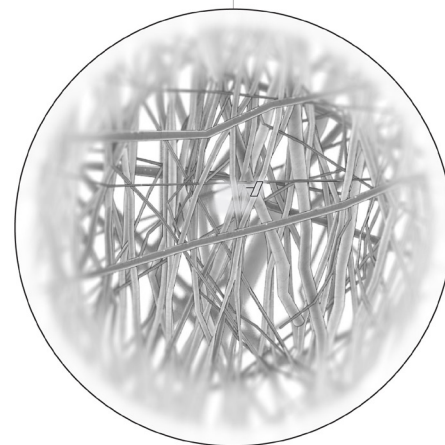

Straps around the crown of the head and below the ears are crucial to ensure the respirator fits tightly. A nose clamp forms a seal.

Early in the pandemic, the U.S. stock of N95s was too depleted even to meet the sudden, dire needs of front-line health-care workers. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention told us to save the most protective masks for essential workers and sew our own.

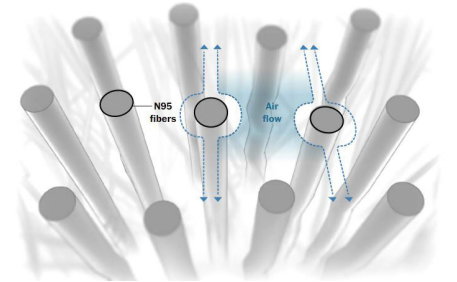

After two years of ramped-up production, high-quality N95s are widely available to consumers, and the Strategic National Stockpile contains more than 750 million.

Some experts recommended that more people wear them after the delta variant emerged last summer, and on Jan. 14, the CDC updated its recommendations to tout their effectiveness and remove caveats about short supply. The White House plans to give away 400 million N95s in the next few weeks to help stifle the spread of the highly transmissible omicron variant of the novel coronavirus.

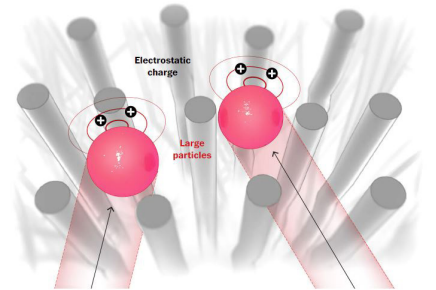

How N95 masks work

N95s come in several shapes and carry a mark from the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) to show that they are authentic. Some look like domes, others a bit like duck bills. This flat-fold, three-panel type is popular in hospitals.

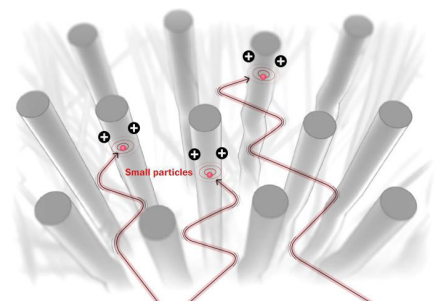

It is made of polypropylene fibers that are 1/50th the size of a human hair, blown together in a random web to create an obstacle course for particles.

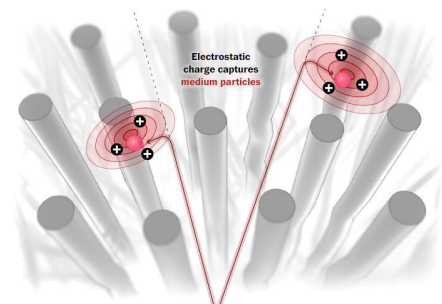

Air flows in and out of the microscopic spaces between the fibers, allowing the wearer to breathe.

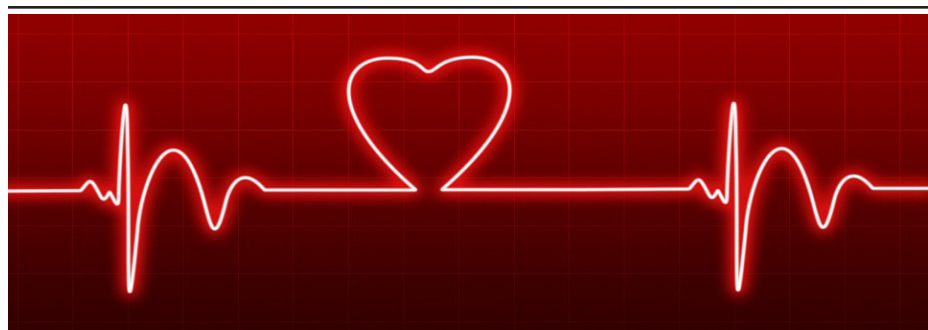

The fibers carry an electrostatic charge that attracts passing particles like a magnet. Large particles bump into the fibers and easily become trapped. The more particles are captured, the denser and more effective the fibers become.

The tiniest particles can move between fibers, but they are constantly jostled by air molecules. All that pinging around makes them likely to eventually hit a fiber and become trapped as well.

The most difficult particles to capture are small enough to slip between fibers but stout enough that they don't bounce around a lot. Coronaviruses typically fit into this midsize category. However, the electrostatic charge is effective at grabbing particles of all sizes out of the air.

February is American Heart Month so please take this information from the CDC to heart.

Smoking and Heart Health

Let's dispel the myth that smoking only harms your health by affecting your lungs.

Cardiovascular (Heart) disease among individuals that smoke

Smoking causes one of every four deaths from heart disease by:

- 1) Raising the amount of fat in your blood
- 2) Lower "good" cholesterol
- 3) Making blood sticky and more likely to clot
- 4) Causing thickening and narrowing of blood vessels

Cardiovascular disease and secondhand smoke

- 1) Secondhand smoke causes

nearly 34,000 early deaths from heart disease each year

2) Breathing in secondhand smoke at home or at work increases risk of developing heart disease by 25%

3) Secondhand smoke can cause the blood to become stickier

Stopping smoking is the single most important step you can take to protect your health and the health of those around you. It's hard but not impossible and it helps to have a plan. If you would like help to stop smoking, contact your health care provider or call the Quit line at 1-800-QUIT-NOW (1-800-784-8669)
